Restructure of the Guide to Road Design

Austrroads Guide to Road Design is in the processes of a major restructure to the guide.

The diagram below from AGRD Part 1: Objectives of Road Design (2021) shows the proposed structure.

The content of AGRD Part 2: Design Considerations (2019) has been incorporated into the revised AGRD Part 1: Objectives of Road Design.

As a result, the majority of content from VRS Supplement to AGRD Part 2: Design Considerations (v2.0 Dec 2012) has been transferred to the DoT Supplement to AGRD Part 1: Objectives of Road Design (V3.0 2021).

V3.0 Coming Soon

AGRD Part 1: Objectives of Road Design (2021) indicates that the new Part 2 will include;

Part 2: Network-wide Design provides guidance on developing network-wide safety plans, including Movement and Place principles and guidance to road managers, planners and designers to achieve improved safety outcomes with the application of consistent standards along a road corridor.

Once the revised Part 2 is released, v3.0 of this supplement will be developed and publish to address the new content in this part of the guide.
